

Vincent Wong is the Director of R&D for Continental Automotive Singapore.

He heads the Research & Advanced Engineering group in Singapore where research and innovations activities in the area of Autonomous Driving, Artificial Intelligence, Robotics, Cyber Security are carried out. Vincent leads the strategisation, proposition and execution of technological projects relevant to the eco-system of the Singapore and the region.

Prior to his current role, Vincent leads the application and platform development group for Business Unit Instrumentation & Driver HMI Singapore. In this role, Vincent is responsible for the R&D activities of Singapore and Malaysia to serve global automotive customers.

Vincent is the Chairman of the Technology and Transformation Function Committee and a council member of the Singapore Manufacturing Federation.

In-addition, Vincent is a member of the ITE Electronics & Info-Comm Technology Academic Advisory Committee.

With over 20 years in the automotive industry, Vincent drives collaboration partnership with public agencies, academia, corporate companies, SMEs and startups.